For ensuring that disability is incorporated into diversity, equity, and inclusion initiatives at Stanford Medicine, including successfully advocating for its inclusion in the School of Medicine’s diversity statement;

For advocating for greater visibility of disability and improved accessibility, resources, and services as founder and leader of the Stanford Medicine Alliance for Disability Inclusion and Equity and as board member of the Stanford Disability Initiative;

For fostering community for students, staff, and faculty with disabilities, including by creating the Disability in Medicine Mutual Mentorship Program and by partnering with Black affinity groups to form the intersectional discussion group Racism & Disability in Medicine;

For elevating and expanding the discourse around disability and medicine by conducting trainings, promoting assistive technology, and creating and hosting events, including the Annual Conference on Disability in Healthcare and Medicine;

Peter Poullos

Clinical Associate Professor, Radiology, Gastroenterology and Hepatol hereby designated a 2022 recipient of the

President’s Award for Excellence Through Diversity

Marc Tessier-Lavigne

President of the University